The function of a pronoun is to "stand in" for a noun. A noun by itself has no identity - it takes its meaning from the context.

Personal pronouns can be used in a variety of ways - they can serve as the subject of a sentence, as the object of a verb or preposition to show possession, or to provide emphasis (sometimes called intensive pronouns) and reflexive pronouns.

Nominative personal pronouns = subject

Objective or possessive pronouns = Object of the verb or preposition

Mary went to the tomb. Mary was looking for Jesus.

so - Mary went to the tomb. "She" was looking for Jesus.

"She" 'stands in' for Mary. "She" is the personal pronoun.

Personal pronouns

"I" am very busy.

"You" are busy too.

"She" is studying.

Mary went to tell "them" Jesus is risen.
